Policy: Employees of the Department of State should not have any interest, financial or otherwise, direct or indirect, or engage in any business or transaction or professional activity or incur any obligation of any nature, which is in substantial conflict with the proper discharge of their duties in the public interest.

Department of State employees shall avoid conflicts of interest when engaged in outside activity with or without compensation. Conflicts of interest include situations where an employee's conduct violates the public trust. Because of the diversity of the agency, employees should be especially cautious about possible conflict of interest when outside activities relate to the programs of the Department of State.

In addition, employees must not engage in activities other than official Department of State business during their scheduled working hours.

Special Restrictions Regarding the Holding of a Department of State Issued License or Registration:

Employees may not act under any license or registration issued by or engage in any business or occupation registered with or supervised by the Department of State or commission or division thereof, while employed by the Department, inasmuch as there is an inherent likelihood of a conflict of interest, use of influence or impairment of actions of other employees.

Notwithstanding the above prohibition, there are two limited circumstances where a Department employee may engage in such activities. First, all employees may hold a commission and act as a notary public while employed by the Department. Second, those individuals either seeking part-time employment with the Department or those already employed part-time by the Department, upon receiving prior written approval in accordance with the procedures set forth in this policy, may continue to act under a license or engage in a business or occupation overseen by the Department while employed by the Department. For purposes of this exemption, part-time employment is defined as either working: (1) less than 50 percent of a 37.5 hour workweek on an annual salary basis, or (2) less than 900 hours per calendar year on other than an annual salary basis. Approval may be granted where no actual conflict or appearance of a conflict of interest exists. Such approval may be conditioned as necessary to ensure avoidance of any potential conflicts.
